SirsiDynix Completes Worldwide Customer Tour

Company executives visit UK, France, China, Taiwan, Hong Kong, and Australia

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., May 1, 2006 – SirsiDynix, the global leader in strategic technology solutions for libraries, announced today that a team of corporate executives recently completed an 18-day round-the-world tour to visit the company’s recently combined customer base. Led by CEO Patrick Sommers, the team met with hundreds of SirsiDynix customers from throughout Europe and the Asia-Pacific region. Beginning on March 27, the SirsiDynix team gave two-day presentations in Birmingham, England; Paris, France; Shanghai, China; Taipei, Taiwan; Hong Kong; and Melbourne, Australia.

“Since the SirsiDynix merger was completed in August 2005, we have been making plans to visit our customers outside of North America,” said Sommers. “We’ve already had great opportunities to meet with North American customers at the Dynix/Horizon and Unicorn users conferences in recent months. But most customers outside North America don’t get to attend users’ conferences or trade shows hosted in the United States. So we believed it to be important to make a special effort to ‘take our show on the road.’”

Sommers continued, “Sharing information on the company’s strength and stability, plans for new and enhanced products and services, and vision for the future is always important. Our customers need to know where we are now, where we’re headed, and what our thinking is. We hope that’s what we accomplished during our international tour.”

Other participants in the SirsiDynix tour were Steven Nielsen, senior vice president, product management; Stephen Abram, vice president, innovation; Peter Gethin, managing director, SirsiDynix Europe, Middle East and Africa; Lamar Jackson, vice president, SirsiDynix Asia-Pacific; and Thomas Gates, vice president, marketing.
