CCRLS's Enterprise instance will feature SirsiDynix's robust integration with EBSCO Discovery Service (EDS).

"We spent the last two years examining options and we believe we're getting the best system available," said John Goodyear, CCRLS Director. "We're thrilled with the full set of features in the system and look forward to a long, productive relationship with SirsiDynix."

"We're incredibly excited to partner with CCRLS," said Bill Davison, SirsiDynix CEO. "BLUEcloud stands for Best Library User Experience, and we're ready to start working with CCRLS to deliver the next-generation LSP experience to their staff and patrons.
